readiness for seminars	3.52		You should definitely change the name of the course. We talked a lot about black people's rights, feminism, but there weren't a lot to discuss about the Fantastic World. I expected Harry Potter or the Lord of Rings, while we discussed black feminism.	13.05.2021 , 16.05.2021
teacher's contact with the audience:	3.88		This course after first two weeks hasn't felt as a Fantastic is world literature, as we mostly talked about other things. There was too much political discussions during this course. In the middle there was almost no talks about fantastic.	, 29.04.2021 , 08.05.2021
the possibility of extracurricular communication on educational and scientific issues:	3.5		I guess that the main thing that could improve this course is a sort of more academic approach - also I think that this course could be improved by introducing themes that are sort of more relevant to the Russian audience	, 03.05.2021 , 15.05.2021
overall impression of the course:	2.9		Overall, I really liked the course, especially the fact that it includes a group project and several creative projects. Also, I am glad that thanks to this course I was able to get acquainted with some new interesting books and stories as well as get more knowledge about modern social sciences. However, the course has obvious focus on certain social problems. When I was choosing this course from the syllabus I knew that it would have relation to some topics like feminism and racism. In fact, that was one of the reasons I took this course: I wanted to get more new information on these subjects. But I did not expect that almost all the material of the course would consist of them. And I also know that I am not the only one who got confused by this, so maybe it would be better if the name of the course was something like 'Representation of social problems in fantastical literature' so that everyone could get an adequate idea of what this course is about before they get enrolled.	, 13.05.2021 , 09.05.2021 , 29.04.2021 , 12.05.2021 , 29.04.2021
novelty of knowledge gained:	3.33		Reading list was extremely bad. In most cases it is boring and stupid. I guess it will be good to learn about changes in fantastic trough time. For this purpose you can take the most famous works of a decade and look on the main features of fantastic in that time.	, 05.05.2021 , 01.05.2021 , 13.05.2021 , 16.05.2021 , 16.05.2021 attendance of lectures:	68.52%		there were no seminars in this course that's why I did not grade them in this form. however, consultations with professor were great! besides, thanks for encouraging me to go to WCC. WCC really helps!	, 13.05.2021 , 16.05.2021 , 16.05.2021 attendance of seminars:	72%		the content of this course is too politicized. Behind a large layer of ideological ideas, there was practically nothing that was in the name of the course. the set of texts is very specific. each text, in turn, focuses on political or social issues, rather than on the fiction component.	, 13.05.2021 , 14.05.2021

clarity of student requirements	4.4		Voice is great and she's very adequate and grading is good for students. Doesn't demand a lot. Attendance is not required. the course is nice and Kate is nice too. No bad comments. thank you for audio description of short animated films and everything else that you did for making the materials of the course accessible for the blind.	12.05.2021
