*Executive Committee
The III World Congress for Soviet and East European Studies is sponsored jointly by the International Committee for Soviet and East European Studies and the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies. It follows the First World Congress, which took place in Banff, Canada, in 1974, and the Second World Congress held in Garmisch, Federal Republic of Germany in 1980.

The object of the III World Congress is to provide and expand opportunities for the exchange of information throughout the international community of scholars concerned with Soviet and East European studies. The congress serves as a forum for the presentation of recent research findings and for discussion of scholarly topics. It seeks to promote the advancement of knowledge in the Soviet/East European field by encouraging interdisciplinary and comparative studies as well as work within the scientific disciplines.

The organization of the congress has been coordinated by the national headquarters of the AAASS, working in cooperation with ICSEES. On behalf of the international community of scholars in the field of Soviet and East European Studies, both institutions express thanks to the members of the Washington, DC Chapter of the AAASS, the Preliminary Planning Group, the Program Committee, the Local Arrangements Committee, and the many others whose sustained efforts and contributions over the past five years have made this meeting possible.

Second Edition, Fully Revised and Updated
The USSR
THE POLITICS OF OLIGARCHY
Darrell P. Hammer
“A meticulous study of both the politics of oligarchy and bureaucratic politics in the USSR. As an introductory text for students of Soviet politics, the major advantage of its dualistic approach is that students will be informed about both high politics and low politics, about leaders with high profiles and power brokers with little visibility, about all the key institutions and structures in the Soviet polity and the more overlooked ones. This second edition of a highly successful text will appeal to those who seek an understanding of the day-to-day workings of the Soviet political system.”

Russia Perceived
Elizabeth Pond

Revised and updated to include the deaths of Andropov and Chernenko and the ascendancy of Gorbachev.

Hundreds of course adoptions have made this the most recommended book for students and teachers of Soviet affairs. And now, more than ever, it is the most comprehensive and up-to-date portrait of contemporary Russia.

“This is the kind of book that can be recommended with confidence to students of Soviet affairs . . . . Even seasoned practitioners in the field will enjoy it, and profit from it. Tightly written and yet wide in scope, rich in fact and description and yet amazingly accurate, aware of the variety of interpretations and yet always striking the right analytical note.”—Soviet Studies

THIS WAR CALLED PEACE
Brian Crozier, Drew Middleton,
Jeremy Murray-Brown

“A short, clear-headed history of the cold war by three men who know how it looks through Soviet eyes and therefore know how to tell it from the Western point of view. . . . One of the virtues of the book is its clear-headed balance between moral condemnation of Communism and realism about how to oppose it.”

—Joseph Sobran in the National Review

“Impressive. . . . brimming with surprises. . . . Not the least of them is the levelheaded notion that there is no ‘historical inevitability about the success of communism as a world force.’”

—Fred Barnes in the New York Times Book Review

Solzhenitsyn in Exile: Critical Essays and Documentary Materials
Solzhenitsyn in Exile rises out of the abiding interest in Solzhenitsyn: the political image, the writer, and the man. Why have attitudes in the West changed toward Solzhenitsyn? How has his oeuvre developed since his expulsion from Russia?

Inside Stalin's Secret Police: NKVD Politics, 1936-39
Robert Conquest
Much has been written of the NKVD in its role as Stalin's weapon in the terror against the party, the army, and the Russian people in the late 1930s. This is the first serious study of its internal politics. The author investigates the complex and bitter facts of the political struggle within an organization that was then the central agency of the state.

Lenin and the Twentieth Century: A Bertram D. Wolfe Retrospective
Bertram D. Wolfe; compiled by Lennard Gerson
Wolfe's goal, often deferred, was to write a biography of Lenin. These twelve essays on Lenin and Leninism suggest the direction of his research and thinking on Lenin's place in the twentieth century.

The Bulgarian Communist Party from Blagoev to Zhivkov
John D. Bell
Today, the best-known fact about the Bulgarian Communist Party (BCP) is that it is allegedly linked to KGB terrorist activities. Is the BCP merely a Soviet puppet, or has it retained some elements of Bulgarian national culture?
$9.95 ISBN 0-8179-8202-7 (paper)

Soviet Military Policy Since World War II
William Lee and Richard F. Staar
Few studies exist on how and why the USSR decides to produce the weapons systems that it does; across the political spectrum, American policy makers wonder what the USSR is up to each time it begins to test new weapons systems. Lee and Staar's basic thesis is that Soviet military doctrine clearly state the reasons for the Soviet military buildup.

Soviet Defectors: The KGB Wanted List
Vladislav Krasnov
Who defects? When? How? Dr. Krasnov's path-breaking study analyzes the patterns of defection. He argues that whenever public attention is drawn to something that the Soviet government would rather hide (as it hides evidence of defection) the public is the winner, as its understanding of the USSR increases.

“If maskirovka is also the explanation for Ogar- kov’s dramatic step-down, it would be yet an- other case in which present-day Soviet policy has taken a cue from Russia’s Byzantine past: In 1564, Czar Ivan Grozny made a show of ‘abdicating’... He demoted himself to ‘Prince of Moscow’,... (and) from his fortified palace in Aleksandrov, built up his power to unprece- dented heights.” —EIR, Sept. 25, 1984

“The strategic assessment which should be available to every military and intelligence official and member of Congress, but which government so far fails to produce.”

The Impact of World War II on the Soviet Union
Susan J. Linz, ed. This volume brings together current research by prominent scholars in the U.S. and abroad in such diverse disciplines as economics, literature, political science, religion, history and sociology to investigate the ways in which World War II affected Soviet life. "Very readable...contains new and important information."— Robert Stuart, Rutgers Univ. July 1985 / 312 pp. / $26.50 / $12.95 paper

Perceived Images
U.S. and Soviet Assumptions and Perceptions in Disarmament
Daniel Frei. Published in cooperation with the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research. The author asserts that while analysis of objective factors is indeed indispensable, it needs to be supplemented by a careful, document-based description of Soviet and U.S. perceptions of one another, and of the kind of assumptions that have thus far compelled their leaders to seek security in growing numbers of sophisticated weapons at ever-increasing cost. September 1985 / 344 pp. / $26.50

The Soviet Iron and Steel Industry
Jeffrey P. Osleeb and Craig ZumBrunnen. This study analyzes the optimal locations for iron and steel production and attempts to predict probable shifts in industry location, output, and processes at both the existing and the future centers up to the year 1990. January 1986 / ca 150 pp. / ca $35.00

The Soviet Rural Economy
Robert C. Stuart, ed. The authors examine agriculture in the prerevolutionary and early Soviet periods, looking at the performance results of the NEP and collectivization. They then assess the contemporary rural economy, including levels of living, agricultural location, and the role of the private sector, and offer a production function analysis of Soviet agriculture. 1984 / 334 pp. / $48.50

Khrushchev and the Communist World
R.F. Miller and F. Feher, eds. The Khrushchev period is generally recognized to have represented a step forward. This book reviews the evidence for this view both in internal terms and in foreign affairs. It draws on several recently published works by Medvedef and Azrael to present a comprehensive and detailed picture. 1984 / 252 pp. / $27.50

NATO's Northern Allies
The National Security Policies of Belgium, Denmark, The Netherlands, and Norway
Gregory Flynn, ed. Developments within the smaller Northern European members of the Alliance are having a greater and greater impact on the way the Alliance as a whole is able to approach a whole range of current policy dilemmas. This book explores the identified trend of "decreasing marginality" of these Allies, and its implications for the Alliance during the years ahead. AnAtlantic Institute for International Affairs Research Volume. November 1985 / ca 220 pp. / ca $45.00

The Demand for Energy in the Soviet Union
David Wilson. Studies the household and municipal economies; the electricity-generating sector; the iron and steel, construction, chemicals and oil-refining industries; agriculture; and transport and trade, and predicts the levels of fuel consumption needed by these sectors to sustain a minimum permissible growth rate for the Soviet economy. "Impressive...this well-written and attractively presented book is an important contribution to a rapidly expanding field."—Choice. 1983 / 310 pp. / illus. / $34.95

The Soviet Union
A Systematic Geography
Leslie Symons, et al. "This is the most up-to-date geography of the USSR on the market."—Choice "Provides an up-to-date account of the basic aspects of the physical, economic, and human geography of the USSR, introducing a number of topics that are not generally covered in geography textbooks."—Journal of Geography. 1983 / 278 pp. / illus. / $32.50 / $23.50 paper

ETHNIC RELATIONS IN THE USSR
The Perspective from Below
Rasma Karklins
With this study, Karklins makes an important contribution to our understanding of ethnic relations in the USSR. Her work demonstrates that ethnicity is not just a cultural given or a political identity to be manipulated from above, but has concrete meaning for the individual as well. HB $27.50 280pp. 1985

RED ARMY AND SOCIETY
A Sociology of the Soviet Military
Ellen Jones
Drawing on a wide range of Soviet literature and documentation, as well as eyewitness accounts, Ellen Jones has produced a full-length study of the Soviet armed forces as a social institution. HB $25.00 PB $11.50 280pp. 1985

ORDINARY STALINISM
Democratic Centralism and the Question of Communist Political Development
Ronald Tiersky
In his original analysis of the nature of communism and its development, Ronald Tiersky demonstrates that the intrinsic imperialism of communism is a result of its internal organization — i.e. democratic centralism, or the infamous “ban on factions” of earlier years. HB $19.50 280pp. 1985

POLAND 1981
Towards Social Renewal
Peter Raina
In 1981 serious attempts were being undertaken both by the Polish government and the independent trade union “Solidarity” to initiate urgently needed socio-economic reform. This comprehensive narrative examines the numerous laws, draft bills, agendas, memoranda, and programs that constituted the aborted attempt at social renewal. HB $37.50 350pp. 1985

SOVIET UNION AND TERRORISM
Roberta Goren
Edited by Jillian Becker
“A thoroughly researched, generally well argued analysis of the Soviet Union’s extensive and increasing support of terrorist organizations as a tactic to advance foreign policy goals.” Choice HB $27.50 PB $11.50 180pp. 1984

NOBILITY AND PRIVILEGE IN LATE IMPERIAL RUSSIA
SEYMOUR BECKER

The transformation of the Russian nobility between 1861 and 1914 has often been attributed to the anachronistic attitudes of its members and their failure to adapt to social change. Becker challenges this idea of “the decline of the nobility,” arguing instead that the privileged estate often responded positively to the challenges of capitalism. Examining evidence in the archives of Moscow and Leningrad, he analyzes the transformation of the former serf owners into a class of powerful entrepreneurs, politicians, financiers, and well-educated professionals who became effective practitioners of interest-group politics and thus influenced their nation’s political and economic destiny.

Approx. 292 pages $27.50

THE MOSCOW BUSINESS ELITE
A Social and Cultural Portrait of Two Generations, 1840–1905
JO ANN RUCKMAN

By drawing upon a rare collection of contemporary sources and interweaving biography with social history, Ruckman details the cultural and political accomplishments of Moscow’s business dynasties during the last years of Imperial Russia.

IN THE VANGUARD OF REFORM
Russia’s Enlightened Bureaucrats, 1825–1861
W. BRUCE LINCOLN

“Lincoln’s book reaffirms the importance of politics and culture as crucial variables that must be considered together with economic and social issues. . . . His writing is marked by subtle analysis and lucid prose.”—The Russian Review

316 pages $23.00

FORTHCOMING
RUSSIA GATHERS HER JEWS
The Origins of the “Jewish Question” in Russia, 1772–1825
JOHN KLIER

Klier offers a definitive account of how Russians discovered the “Jewish Question,” with its legal and social consequences, during the formative period in which modern Russia acquired and learned to deal with her Jewish population.
