How Russia Votes
Stephen White, University of Glasgow, Richard Rose, Strathclyde University, and Ian McAllister, University of Manchester

In this groundbreaking study, three internationally known political scientists analyze the momentous sequence of elections held during the collapse of the Soviet Union and the creation of a new state, the Russian Federation. Declaring Russia a late entrant to the world of free elections, the authors trace the progress of democratization by examining the data collected in a series of nationwide surveys conducted over a decade of transition. Focusing on the views of voters and politicians, How Russia Votes offers illuminating commentary on Russia's historic passage from the authoritarian ideology of the old Communist Party days to the freewheeling competitive politics of the July 1996 presidential election.

The Politics of Punishment
Prison Reform in Russia, 1863–1917
Bruce F. Adams

Adams traces the development of a modern penal system in Russia from the time of the Great Reforms—when, with the partial abolition of corporal punishments, the idea of imprisonment and rehabilitation emerged—to the establishment of the Main Prison Administration. While illuminating the context in which the Prison Administration worked, he also reveals a great deal about Russian government and society during the reform era.

My Years with Gorbachev and Shevardnadze
The Memoir of a Soviet Interpreter

PAVEL PALAZCHENKO

As the principal English interpreter for Mikhail Gorbachev and his foreign minister, Eduard Shevardnadze, in the critical period of 1985-1991, Pavel Palazchenko participated in all U.S.-Soviet summit talks leading to the end of the Cold War. This personal and political memoir sheds new light on Soviet/American relations and personalities during that time.

Keeping Tito Afloat
The United States, Yugoslavia, and the Cold War

LORRAINE M. LEES

The American Council of Teachers of Russian/American Council for Collaboration in Education and Language Study (ACTR/ACCELS) welcomes applications from American colleges and universities interested in hosting language and culture teachers from Belarus, Kazakhstan, Russia, Ukraine, and Uzbekistan for a semester or academic year. Participants specialize in teaching their native language to foreigners and serve as visiting faculty at US foreign language departments. US institutions must provide housing and meals for the visiting instructor and remit to ACTR/ACCELS a fee of approximately $4,000 per semester. The fee will cover the cost of a monthly living stipend for the consultant, an orientation program in Washington, the teacher's domestic transportation from Washington DC to the host institution and back, and medical insurance during the program. ACTR/ACCELS arranges the instructor's visa documentation and international transportation.

Application letters to host visiting language instructors for the spring 1997 semester and 1997-98 academic year must be submitted by October 15, 1996, and February 15, 1997, respectively. Please contact Michael Kuban of ACTR/ACCELS for more information at 1776 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20036, (202) 833-7522.

You return home richer in knowledge, friends, and values. You have challenged your previous ways of living, your heart, and your intellect—you have lived a RUSSIAN ODYSSEY.

Most other programs in Russia

- You live and study at only one university in one city for the duration of your stay.
