CAN DEMOCRACY TAKE ROOT IN POST-SOVIET RUSSIA?
Explorations in State-Society Relations
Edited by Harry Eckstein, Frederic J. Fleron, Jr., Erik P. Hoffmann, and William M. Reisinger
Exploring the dynamics of state-society relations in post-Soviet Russia, noted scholars examine the nature of authority patterns within and between state and society. With its strong theoretical orientation, this pathbreaking volume raises new issues in the study of post-communist politics and, from the unifying perspective of congruence theory, provides a range of views on these hotly contested issues.

Much more than politics as usual...

Transitions magazine — a rare forum for the exchange of ideas and criticism on political, economic, and cultural issues and events.

With coverage extending to all 27 countries of Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet Union, Transitions provides an always factual and often personalized account of the events and ideas that are shaping the region. Recent contributors to these discussions include David Rieff, Timothy Garton Ash, Adam Michnik, Peter Rutland, Fatos Lubonja, Tatiana Repkova, Elena Chinyaeva, Jiří Pehe, Anders Aslund, Chuck Sudetic, Patrick Moore, and Anton Bebler.

You should be counted among the participants in the ongoing discussions in the pages of Transitions — as a subscriber, contributor, or commentator, you can. At the 1997 AAASS convention, you’ll find Transitions displayed at the CEU Press booth. Have a look, and then join us.*

PARTY-STATES AND THEIR LEGACIES IN POST-COMMUNIST TRANSFORMATION

Maria Csanádi, Hungarian Academy of Sciences

This book is a unique investigation into the construction, operation, self-destruction and transition of Hungarian politics from the 1960s to the mid-1990s. It presents a rich picture which draws upon an extraordinary body of data and provides not just simply a retrospective theoretical analysis of the system, but details of everyday life within the state apparatus.

EASTERN EUROPE AND THE WORLD ECONOMY

Challenges of transition and Globalization

Edited by Iliana Zloch-Christy, Vienna, Austria and Harvard University

Two of the most important economic processes at work in recent years are the globalization of the world economy, and the economic transition in Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. This book analyzes the transition process from a comparative perspective and places these changes within the wider framework of globalization.

The Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church and the Soviet State (1939–1950)

Bohdan R. Bociurkiw

The definitive study of Stalin’s suppression of the Ukrainian Catholic Church by the leading authority in the field. The study reveals what the Soviet authorities sought to achieve and the mechanisms and persons—including the Moscow Patriarchate, NKGB agents, officials, and ecclesiastical figures—they used to achieve their goals.

THE CENTER'S MISSION

An independent, private, non-profit institution, created in Iași, Romania, in 1994, the Center's mission is to facilitate contacts between Romanian and foreign scholars and to promote a better understanding of Romanian history, literature, and culture throughout the world. In addition to its own research program, the Center organizes international conferences and facilitates the research efforts of foreign scholars interested in visiting libraries, archives, and institutions in the Iași area.

The Center also publishes a series of monographs, journals, and CD-ROMs in English and other languages dealing with various aspects of Romanian history and culture.

The Center publishes the journal Romanian Civilization three times a year, which includes articles by Romanian and foreign scholars about all aspects of Romanian history and culture.

Are you still purchasing your books the hard way? Combining months of total abstinence with periodic buying binges during hectic visits "in-country," and experiencing the frustration of not being able to find the exact books you want and not knowing what else is, or once was, available?

There is an alternative.

East View offers a variety of options for keeping up with new books being published in Russia/NIS:

Books+ Online Catalog -
Search for specific items or browse the latest additions. Over 250,000 titles and growing! Buy online and save.

EVmail - Receive regular listings of publications relevant to your interests via e-mail or fax. Free!

Книжный вестник - Review current titles and recent acquisitions in our new monthly newspaper.

For more information about East View’s discounts, selection & service, please stop by Booths 61 & 62, or visit

Recent titles in Slavic Studies from Mellen

Rosslyn, Wendy
ANNA BUNINA & THE ORIGINS OF WOMEN'S POETRY IN RUSSIA
This is the first extensive study of Bunina's poems and the first detailed exploration of her life, using archives and numerous contemporary periodicals. It describes the cultural expectations which Bunina challenged, her unconventional lyric persona, her strategic choices of poetic language and genre, the reception of her work, and her unprecedented success in living by the pen. It illuminates the pre-history of feminism and the feminine literary tradition in Russia through the reflections on gender and writing of the most radical and gifted of the early women writers. 372pp. 1997

Pecherskaya, Natalia, editor (Translated by R. Coates)
THE EMANCIPATION OF RUSSIAN CHRISTIANITY
These essays by leading Russian scholars represent an attempt to give meaning to the interaction of religious consciousness and culture as it exists at the current stage of Russia's development. They are an exposition of historical, theological, ecclesiastical, philosophical and moral problems from the point of view of the religious consciousness, a function which till now has been the exclusive prerogative of the clergy, and consequently absent in scholarly literature of the Soviet period. The collection as a whole witnesses to the liberation of Christian thought in Russia. With an Introduction by Natalia Pecherskaya, Director of the St. Petersburg School of Religion and Philosophy. 144pp. 1995

Volkova, Bronislava
A FEMINIST'S SEMIOTIC ODYSSEY THROUGH CZECH LITERATURE
"The selection of topics and the structuring of this manuscript reflect the variety of her intellectual concerns as well as a personal, often bold, insight into Czech culture. By blending her reflexions on broad cultural themes with detailed, sophisticated readings of the original texts, Volkova has written a book that will prove as valuable to the undergraduate as to the most advanced students of Czech culture." - Maria Nemcova Banerjee

"The carefully prepared bibliography at the end of the study is very useful indeed. . . . render[s] a most valuable service not only to students and scholars of Czech and Central European literatures and culture, but also to comparatists, historians of ideas as well as the general intelligent reader." - Marketa Goetz-Stankiewicz
240pp. 1997
